To Sing in Borough

NELSON EDDY

Popular Philadelphia baritone, who will be the guest soloist at the spring concert of the Narberth M. E. Church choir on Tuesday evening.

Nelson Eddy to Sing at M. E. Church Concert

Nelson Eddy, Philadelphia's popular baritone, and Theodore Paxson, pianist, will be the guest soloists of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church Choir at its spring concert on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Eddy will present three groups, which will include "Guns," by O'Hara; "Route Marchin'," Stock; "Drums," Meale; "Gloire a Vanne!"; "Sing Me a Song of the Sea," "The Bell Man," "Water Boy" and "My Sword for the King." He will also sing the solo parts for "The Heavens Are Telling" and "Spirit Immortal."

Mr. Paxson will play Brahms' "Rhapsody in G Minor"; Bach's chorale, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," and Weber's "Perpetual Motion." He will also accompany Mr. Eddy.

The choir, which will be augmented by members of the Baptist Temple Choir of Philadelphia, will sing arrangements of Borowski's "Adoration" and Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C Sharp Minor, and several other numbers.

Nagib Eadeh to Speak

On Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock Nagib Eadeh will speak at the home of Mrs. J. Bruce Byall, Bryn Mawr Avenue, Narberth, at a meeting of the Committee on International Relations of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth. Mr. Eadeh is a young Arab, who was educated near Jerusalem and is now studying at the University of Pennsylvania. He will tell of his early life and also discuss the present political situation in Palestine. Anyone interested is cordially invited to hear him.

'Whole Town's Talking' Again Tonight for Team

Narberth's baseball club will receive the proceeds of a repeat performance of the comedy, "The Whole Town's Talking," at Elm Hall tonight at 8:15. So well received was the initial performance March 13, that the repetition was arranged to give Narberth town-folk an opportunity to enjoy the play (perhaps a second time) and at the same time to aid the ball team's treasury.

Under direction of Mrs. Henry A. Frye, the farce is an offering of the Dramatic Committee of the Women's Community Club of Narberth. In the cast are William A. Stout, Faith A. Farmer, Eleanor Cronlund, Frank S. Follmer, Arthur L. Cooke, Virginia Burgstresser, James F. Sherron, Jr., Ruth H. Nash, Anna M. Goodwin, Jeanette E. G. Moore, W. Russell Green, Evelyn M. Shaw, Agnes Trotter and Mrs. Isabel Follmer.

Prizes to Be Given At Legion Bridge Wednesday

The joint committees of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion and the Post Auxiliary have completed plans for the card party to be held in the Legion Room, Community Building, next Wednesday. A number of interesting features will mark the event. There will be an attractive prize for each table. The management of Narberth Theatre has contributed two books of tickets to be used as a door prize.

In addition a water color of Pierre Vigual group donated by the Post Commander, Frank A. Schrepfer, will be awarded to the lucky player. The water color will be on exhibition in the window of "Ye Oddity Shop" this week-end. The number of guests will be limited to players for forty tables. Tickets may be had from Mrs. R. K. Hewitt, of Windsor Avenue; Mrs. Charles Greyer, of Dudley Avenue, and Mrs. Frank A. Schrepfer, of Grayling Avenue, and members of the post and its auxiliary.

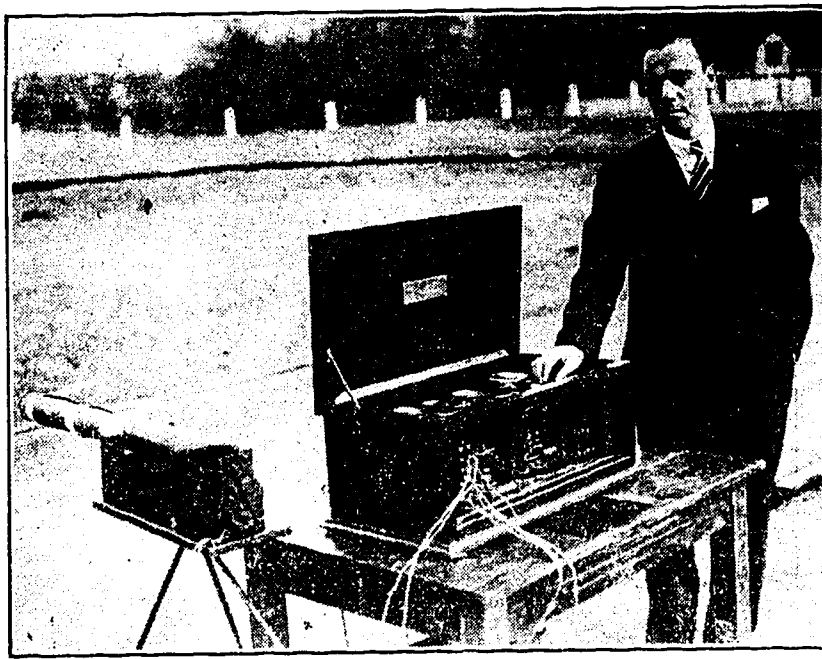

Fine Sign Violator

Stop sign violations are not going unheeded in Narberth. For passing the signs at Windsor and Essex and Narberth and Windsor, Peter Tressedio, of Bryn Mawr, was fined $5 and costs before Burgess Henry A. Frye at a hearing at Council Chamber last Thursday night. Hearings on three more offenders will be held tonight at Elm Hall by Burgess Frye.

Club Elects the 21st

The annual election of officers and board of directors of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth will be held in Elm Hall at 2:30 P. M., April 21. A short program will follow the election. Mrs. C. Arley Farmer and Mrs. Joseph H. Miller will be at the tea table.

The Automatic Race Timer and Its Inventor

Edwin A. Speakman, of Narberth, a senior research student in physics at Haverford College, standing beside the apparatus which he invented which is accurate in timing races to one one-hundredth of a second. The apparatus in the cabinet contains the clock and other mechanism. A photo-electric cell, shielded by the long cylindrical tube, rests on the tripod.

Rotarians See Films of Western Country

An absorbing illustrated account of visits to scenic wonders of the West was given members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club Monday night. H. B. Sibson, of Cynwyd, was the speaker. Mr. Sibson, an engineer, has filmed many of the national parks and wilderness points of the West.

His talk, preceding the showing of the films, was filled with a wealth of historical sidelights and interesting anecdotes. The places visited were studied, and the significance of each scene was learned by Mr. Sibson. The result was an unusual and informative travelogue.

Pictures shown included the pueblos of New Mexico, the Yosemite country, the Yellowstone, Canadian Rockies, etc. Views of dude ranches were included. Some fishing scenes involving members of the club made up the end of one of the reels.

Bake Sale Saturday

A "Home Bake" will be held at Dando's store on Saturday morning by the Epworth League of the Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church. Homemade cakes, cookies and candy will be on sale.

There is no telling where the labyrinths of scientific research will lead. If anyone a year ago had told Edwin A. Speakman, a student at Haverford College, that he would invent an apparatus which is likely to revolutionize methods of timing races, he would doubtless have laughed at the prophet. But such is the case.

The idea of the automatic race timer which Speakman has invented came to him as the result of a course in astronomy, and mentioning it to his professor, was suggested by him as a problem in research.

As a result of his work, Speakman has perfected an apparatus, known as the Haverford College Automatic Race Timer, which makes the timing of a race accurate to one one-hundredth of a second, eliminating inaccuracies due to human observation.

Using both light and sound, the timer was successfully introduced in practical use at the Middle Atlantic States Amateur Athletic Association meet at Haverford last June. It has

Bennett's 'Old Wives' Tale'

Recommended by Library

This is the time to read "The Old Wives' Tale," that absorbing story of Sophia and Constance Baines, of Bursley. The story was written by Arnold Bennett, who died in London on March 27 and whom critics are now vying with one another to honor for his life of dedication to a sincere interpretation of the events of a simple and restricted existence. Plays, essays, several poems and thirty successful novels are accredited to him, and he stands as one of the two or three great figures in English letters.

"The Old Wives' Tale" is considered hardly to be surpassed by any novel of the eighteenth or nineteenth century. In it Bennett started out to depict the entire life of an ordinary woman, one who would pass unnoticed in a crowd, and fascinated with his subject, he finally made it two women, sisters, one who remained at home in the small town of Bursley, and one who went to Paris. It was Sophia who lived in Paris, all through the Siege and the Commune, and who was so little affected by it that all that she could recall in later years was her difficulty in obtaining Brie cheese.

At this time, when Bennett, because of his sudden illness and death, is brought dramatically to the attention of the public, the Library recommends the reading of this outstanding novel.

Narberth Theatre Notes

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are in "The Man Who Came Back," at the Narberth Theatre this week-end. It is praised as a romance more beautiful than "7th Heaven."

Greta Garbo in "Inspiration" is an artist's model. The drama is at Narberth next Monday and Tuesday. Johnny Farrell, in an added attraction, will demonstrate in "Duffer Swing" how to play golf—and how not to play it.

Marion Davies is in Belasco's stage comedy's movie version, "The Bachelor Father," which is coming to the borough next Wednesday and Thursday. Supposed to be quite sophisticated and also amusing.

Joe E. Brown and Winnie Lightner followers will giggle, gasp and guffaw—according to the Narberth Theatre management—when they see "Sit Tight," which is coming next week-end.

Egyptian Theatre News

Cleverest and funniest comedy so far this year is "Finn and Hattie," Donald Ogden Stewart's travel tale about the Haddocks. The Egyptian, which is playing it Friday and Saturday, also has a funny Charlie Chase comedy—"Thundering Tenors"—and the first of a new golf series by Johnny Farrell, the golfer who beat Bobby Jones.

"Part-Time Wife," at the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday, is adapted from Stewart Edward White's moving tale of a quarreling married couple whose path became smooth after a boy, a dog and a golf match became involved in things.

"Fighting Caravans," in which Gary Cooper and Lily Damita have stellar roles, is a thrilling Paramount picture based on Zane Grey's story. Also in the cast are Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall.

Ed Winn and Lou Holtz and Ginger Rogers help make "Follow the Leader"—at the Egyptian next Friday and Saturday—a really contagious comic rich in spontaneous applause. And there will be a Laurel and Hardy comedy: "Be Big."

Organist Coming

Because a recent questionnaire showed a demand for it, organ music will be played at the Egyptian Theatre starting Monday evening of next week, at both performances, as part of a "Guest Night" program; and also at the 9 P. M. performance Wednesday as part of an unusual "Discovery Night." The organist, who has been persuaded to find time from his radio and orchestra bookings, is Billy Murphy, who played regularly at the Egyptian until about a year ago. He will aid in the theatre's Monday and Wednesday special programs each week hereafter.

Girl Scouts Take

First Aid Courses

First aid courses have proved a very valuable and popular branch of the Girl Scout work. At the present time a first aid course of eight weeks is being given by Miss Jackson, of the Philadelphia Red Cross, for Troop 93, of Ardmore. These lessons are held on Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. John Hedley, of Midfield Avenue, Ardmore.

Starting next Monday, an eight weeks' course in first aid will be given from 4:30 until 5:30 at the Bryn Mawr Hospital by Miss Hamilton, who is a member of the staff of that hospital, and offered her services. She gave a Home Service series earlier in the year. There are eighteen scouts—which is the maximum number allowed—registered from three troops, Narberth, Haverford and Wayne.

The trouble with so many opinions is that they are moldy.

Glorious in Defeat

The success of the Lower Merion basketball team in again reaching the finals of the State title tournament may be attributed, in part, at least, to the wholehearted support of the community.

The Maroon basketballers had hundreds of loyal followers from the Main Line who followed the team to Easton, Allentown, Hazleton, and to Pittsburgh.

Interest in the series at the final tilt last Saturday was at a high point. All the rooters who were able made the trip to Pittsburgh, while thousands at home listened in to the telegraphic play-by-play broadcasts over the radio.

Further indication of the interest which was aroused may be inferred from the space devoted to the contests by the Philadelphia newspapers.

The great fight made by Lower Merion for the title gained the admiration and loyalty of residents of the Township and the Main Line, many of whom were neither alumni nor had sons or daughters at the Ardmore school.

The Main Line is proud of the record made by the Lower Merion team and proud of the sportsmanship which its representatives exhibited in every contest.

Although the final fruits of victory were snatched from their grasp, it is none the less a great team and one whose achievements will linger long in annals of athletic achievement on the Main Line.

Wants Taxes Taken From Local Control

Dr. Leroy A. King, of Narberth, had the distinction on Tuesday of last week of being the first private citizen in years to address the State Legislature at Harrisburg by invitation at formal session. He spoke as chairman of the legislative committee of the State Council of Education, and his topic was "Legislation for Education in Pennsylvania." He advocated:

1. Thorough revision of the assessment and taxation system, to be brought about probably by general State or County tax commissions. The purpose: To take assessments and taxes out of the hands of local districts and establish a more uniform system.

2. Larger units of administration for school purposes.

3. Modification of the (Franklin Spencer) Edmonds Act in order to give less able school districts larger financial contributions from the State. He declared this is necessary in order to equalize educational opportunities throughout the State.

Dr. King, who is professor of educational administration at the University of Pennsylvania and secretary of the Narberth School Board, declared in favor of two bills now before the Legislature:

A bill providing for $1,250,000 to be distributed among poor school districts, of which he said there are 100 in the State which are financially insolvent;

And a bill providing for the State to help pay the tuition of high school students in poor districts, where students are sent to neighboring districts to school.

Plan Movie Benefit For Child Health Center

The Narberth Child Health Center is growing so steadily that it threatens to outgrow what seemed to be a well-planned financial backing. Due to this prospect, the Board of Managers have arranged to give a moving picture benefit to forestall any such embarrassing situation for the near future.

The Board earnestly solicits the hearty support of all citizens interested in the health of the community, as well as of the children in particular. The dates for this benefit at the Narberth Theater are from April 20 to 24, inclusive. Tickets must be purchased before the 20th and may be obtained through members of the Board, who are: Mrs. William Newman, Mrs. C. E. Starr, Mrs. Charles H. Shaw, Mrs. C. Arley Farmer and Mrs. Harry A. Jacobs.

During the month of March, the Center was open as usual on all Wednesdays, from 2 to 3 o'clock, during which time 53 children received attention. Toxin-anti-toxin was administered to eleven cases.

At the annual meeting held recently of the five Main Line Health Centers, Narberth was well represented on the honor roll of volunteer workers. During the past year these volunteers were honorably credited for faithful service: Mrs. W. R. Knauer, 38 times; Mrs. L. W. Melcher, 35 times; Mrs. C. A. Farmer, 30 times, and Mrs. J. W. Darville, 19 times.

For an early date in May the Welfare and Civic Committees of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth, which actively supports the Center, is arranging an interesting and instructive afternoon program, which will be open to the public. At this time the mothers and children of the Center will be the guests of the club. Further details will be announced at a later date in "Our Town" in the Community Club's column.

There is always someone around to second any motion.

Stunt Program Given at Narberth School

Stunts occupied the physical education program presented by the sixth and seventh grade boys at the Auditorium program at the Narberth School last Wednesday. It was under the direction of Allan B. Weatherill, physical director of the school.

The following "stunts" were performed: Forward roll, backward roll, handspring over back, caterpillar walk, stump walk, body bounce, shoulder bounce, head stand, four-man pyramid, hobby horses, back stand, knee flip, double forward roll, elephant walk, tumble diving, and a pyramid with seven or eight boys as the last number.

Those participating were: Lawson Yow, Fred Claffey, Musser Moore, Paul Tapp, Jack Weir, Sam Miller, Jimmie Snyder, who also did a tap dance; Carrol Palmer, Raymond Nordblom, Roll Phillips, Bill Watson, Bob Collins, Walter Weidemann, Joe King and Patsy Marianna.

An arbor and bird day program will be presented at the school on Thursday, April 16, by Miss Miller's Fifth grade pupils.

L. M. High School Notes

Junior-Senior Dance

Invitations have been sent to all seniors of the school for the annual Junior-Senior dance, which will be held in the Junior High School Auditorium this Saturday evening. This gala affair has been planned by the Junior Dance Committee, of which Howard T. Lodge, of Rosemont, is chairman. Everyone is invited to attend and, although no "outside stags" will be admitted, others may obtain tickets at two dollars per couple at the door or from the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad A. Wickham, of Cynwyd; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Macan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lodge, and Miss Sarah Cummings, Miss Helen Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keever, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Africa, of the faculty, will act as chaperones.

If the extensive preparations for this dance are any indication of its success, it promises to be one of the most enjoyable evenings of the year.

Junior Class Meets

During activity period on Wednesday, President Connie Wickham called the Junior Class to order for a short meeting. After the interesting minutes of the preceding meeting were read by Mary Jean Poorman, class secretary, Edwin Moore, class treasurer, made a report, which showed that, after all bills contracted to date were paid, a Junior Class was $32 to the good. The latest information concerning the Junior-Senior dance was presented by Howard Lodge, chairman of the Dance Committee. An added attraction for attendance at this dance was presented. It was the announcement that a picture of the dance would be taken to be later put in the Senior Year Book. There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Hear of Foreign Lands

Miss Dorothy Holland, teacher of English of Lower Merion High School, gave an informal talk on her trip to the Land of the Midnight Sun to the members of the Sub-Junior Department of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, which was held in Elm Hall on Monday evening. Miss Katherine Jane Miller, the president, presided.

Basketball Film

Lower Merion's basketball team and coach were invited guests of the Egyptian Theatre at its performance Wednesday evening. As a special feature, pictures were shown of the Maroon quintet in action. This reel will be repeated at the performances this Friday and Saturday.

They would put some of us in jail if we loved our neighbors with the fervor we do ourselves.

William H. Durbin Heads Legion Dance Committee

Following upon the highly successful Legion dancing party held in February it has been decided to continue these parties at regular intervals during the season. William H. Durbin, vice-commander of the Harold D. Speakman Post, of Narberth, has assumed the chairmanship of the committee that is completing arrangements for the next dance to be held on Saturday evening, April 25, at the Legion room. The committee stresses the fact that this is not a charity or welfare party, but a social event of interest to the entire community. The committee promises an excellent orchestra and entertainment. Mr. Durbin has announced that he will have a pleasant surprise for all who attend. The complete details will be announced in next week's issue of "Our Town."

Davis' Bunnies

Winners of the five-dollar Easter bunnies at Davis' Store were Mrs. A. E. Hamilton, 318 Merion Avenue, and Mrs. Ellsworth Clark, 106 Chestnut Avenue, according to an announcement made by Gene Davis on Monday.

New Victor Radio

A new, full-fledged 8-tube superheterodyne receiver, housed in a miniature cabinet, and combining for the first time two of the most famous trade marks in radio, has just been received by Walter G. Case, of the Narberth Electric Shop, from the RCA Victor Company in Camden. It will be known as the RCA Victor Superette, and embodies all the advantages of full-sized superheterodyne performance, with an improved type of variable tone color control, and employs two new super-control radiotrons.

The FIRESIDE

The Cake and Candy and Tea Booth Committees of the Devon Horse Show will give a card party at Green Hill Farms on Monday afternoon to assist in raising funds for Bryn Mawr Hospital. Mrs. Isaac Clothier, Jr., is chairman of the cake and candy booth, while Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton is in charge of the afternoon tea. Mrs. Clothier and her daughter, Miss Catherine Clothier, are now traveling in Europe, but will return in time for the Horse Show. The card party will be in charge of the following committee: Mrs. W. Percy Simpson, Mrs. Merritt H. Taylor, Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton, Mrs. John M. Denison and Mrs. Rene G. Hare.

One of the most important events this month is the benefit ball to be given at the Bellevue-Stratford on Friday evening, April 17. One of the features is an exhibition dance to be given to Mary Binney Montgomery, one of the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leaning Montgomery, with Prince Alexis Garagin La Sarita as her partner. There will be other features, too, and will include some specialty numbers by professionals who have generously offered their services for the occasion. The general entertainment will begin about midnight. Those who are on the receiving committee include Mrs. Livingston Ludlow Biddle, Mrs. Persifer Frazer, 3d, Mrs. Thomas Charlton Henry, Mrs. Horatio Gates Lloyd, Jr., Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Pepper, Jr., Mrs. Edgar Scott, Jr., and Mrs. Louis Casper Wister. The executive committee consists of Nancy Hayward, Mary Large Harrison and Mrs. Walter Stokes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton M. Wentz and their son Billy, of Wayne Avenue, spent the Easter week-end in Spring Grove, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Wray, of Highpoint, N. C., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Joyce, of Narbrook Park, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. White, of Essex Avenue, spent the Easter week-end in Tuckahoe, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Elmer Titus, of Chestnut Avenue, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Emily Titus, Miss Muriel White, Miss Bunny Cornman, of Ardmore, and Miss Billie Bieber motored to Pittsburgh last Saturday, where they attended the Lower Merion-Scott basketball game on Saturday night.

Mrs. William H. MacNiven, of Woodside Avenue, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James MacNiven, of Dover, Delaware, this week.

Mr. William R. Dothard, of Wynnedale Road, entertained at bridge last Tuesday evening. Among the guests were Miss Betty Swing, Miss Virginia Chewing, Miss Hope Burlingame, Miss Polly Palmquist, Mr. Robert King and Mr. D. B. Forwood.

Miss Betty Swing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hamill Swing, of Bryn Mawr, entertained at a small tea on Sunday afternoon. Among the guests were Miss Hope Burlingame, Miss Polly Palmquist, Miss Virginia Chewing, Mr. Robert King, Mr. Charles Wilson, Mr. Brunt Reipe and Mr. William R. Dothard.

Mrs. H. R. Colburn, of Price Avenue, gave a surprise luncheon and bridge last Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Charles Greyer. Among the guests were Mrs. Roland K. Hewitt, Mrs. Robert Taber, Mrs. Howard Biddle, Mrs. C. Trumbauer, Mrs. Joseph Berta, Mrs. A. J. Denman and Mrs. James Smith, of Ridley Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nash, of Wynnedale Road, entertained at an "Open House" on Easter Day. Mr. and Mrs. Nash had as their guests over the week-end Mr. Henry Nash and Mr. Henry Hart, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Burnside and Mr. Frank Boyle and Mr. Robert Boyle, who have been spending some time in Pinchurst, N. C., spent the Easter holidays as the guests of Mr.

Cabaret Chairman

MRS. JOSEPH RICKER ROLLINS of Ardmore, who is chairman of the cabaret to be given in conjunction with a dinner dance by the Junior League, in the ballroom of the Penn Athletic Club on April 15.

Musical and Tea Planned for Salvation Army

Those who will preside at the tea table at the musicale and tea which will be given at the Bellevue-Stratford at four o'clock on Monday afternoon, April 13, for the benefit of the Salvation Army will be Mrs. Theron I. Crane, Mrs. Walter Lee, Mrs. John D. McIlhenny, Mrs. Frederick McOwen, Mrs. I. H. O'Hara and Mrs. William Howland.

Lisa Lisona, soprano, will be the guest artist and will give two groups of songs in costume. Miss Lisona made her debut in Bizet's Carmen in Paris in 1929, where she scored a triumph in the title part, having sung most successfully in her song recital in costume and including in her repertoire Bavarian, Russian and Spanish folk songs.

Mrs. George H. Strawbridge, of Bala, is the chairman. Among the patronesses are Mrs. Bessie Dobson Altemus, Mrs. Thomas Gates, Miss Mary Johns Hopper, Mrs. George L. Justice, Mrs. John Harvey Lee, Mrs. J. Bertram Lippincott, Mrs. George Horace Lorimer, Miss Helen MacCoy, Mrs. John C. Martin, Mrs. Eugene Saunders Newbold, Mrs. Imogene Oakley, Mrs. Howard Sheble, Jr., Mrs. Ernest L. Tustin, Mrs. Richard Vaux and Mrs. Joseph Wear.

Mecke-Little Wedding to Take Place April 22

The marriage of Miss Janet Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Little, of Hampton Terrace, Bala, and Mr. Charles Moyn Mecke, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Mecke, will take place at 6 o'clock on Wednesday, April 22, at St. Matthias Church, Bala.

Mrs. William S. Romer, sister of the bride, will be the matron of honor and the bridesmaids are Mrs. Thomas J. Gallagher, Miss Eleanor Clark, Miss Dorothy Kimmey and Miss Jeanette Mecke, sister of the bridegroom.

The best man will be Mr. George C. Muhly, Jr., and the ushers are Mr. Thomas J. Gallagher, Mr. George McFadden, Mr. Wells S. Buckingham, Mr. John F. Scanlan, Mr. Edward Thompson and a brother of the bride, Mr. J. William Little.

A reception at the Merion Tribute House will follow the ceremony.

Upon their return from a wedding trip Mr. Mecke and his bride will reside at Summit Lane, Cynwyd. They will be at home after June 15.

Utility Co. Effects Saving to Customers

The annual report of the Philadelphia Electric Company for the year 1930 made public this week by William H. Taylor, president, reflects generally satisfactory conditions. Copies of the report have been mailed to stockholders, who held their annual meeting on Wednesday in the Edison Building, Ninth and Sansom Streets. The present company was incorporated October 31, 1929, and the report covers the activities of the Philadelphia Electric Company System for the companies operating in Philadelphia and adjacent territory, in southern Pennsylvania, northern Maryland and in New Jersey.

During the year rate reductions effecting estimated annual savings to electric customers of $1,864,000 were made. These rates were effective September 1, 1930, and involved street lighting schedules in Philadelphia, and power, domestic and commercial lighting schedules both in Philadelphia and suburban territory.

Mr. Taylor's report in part follows: "System operating revenues for 1930 amounted to $65,280,000, an increase of $3,378,769 or 5.5 per cent. over 1929. Electric sales produced $57,770,523 or 88.5 per cent. of the year's total with an increase of 4.5 per cent.; gas sales contributed $6,976,761 or 10.7 per cent. with an increase of 12.9 per cent.; and steam heat sales contributed $533,696 or 0.8 per cent. of the total. Total operating expenses were $35,300,012, an increase over 1929 of $98,716 or 0.3 per cent. The increases in operating revenues, coupled with the slight increase in operating expenses, resulted in a reduction of the operating ratio from 56.9 per cent. in 1929 to 54.1 per cent. in 1930. Net income amounted to $21,544,007, an increase of $2,476,735 over the year 1929.

"Customers for the companies' service continued to increase during the year, reaching a total of 758,740 at December 31, 1930, a gain of 28,181 or 3.9 per cent. Electric customers at December 31, 1930, numbered 630,981, an increase of 22,240 or 3.7 per cent.; gas customers, totaling 126,946 at December 31, 1930, increased 5962 or 4.9 per cent., and steam heat customers decreased 21 or 2.5 per cent. during the year to a total of 813.

"Much of the success of the year's operations, achieved in a period of disturbed business conditions, has been due to the loyalty and whole-hearted efforts of the executives and employees in furthering the company's policies and business and this record would not be complete without a word of commendation and appreciation of their contribution.

"That the interest of the employees has been by no means confined to company affairs is well illustrated by their generous contributions to various welfare agencies during the present period of widespread unemployment and distress. Nearly 3400 employees contributed to the Welfare Federation. The company supplemented these subscriptions with its own contribution of $10,000. The Red Cross call was responded to by 2755 employees, and in response to the appeal of the Committee on Unemployment Relief, employees voluntarily pledged approximately $75,000 over the four-month period, December, 1930, and January, February and March, 1931. This large contribution was matched dollar for dollar by the company, making a total of approximately $150,000 subscribed for this purpose.

"On December 8, 1930, the privilege of subscribing, at special rates, to a new group insurance plan underwritten and guaranteed by the Prudential Life Insurance Company was extended to every permanent employee of the Philadelphia Electric Company System, without medical examination and regardless of age or length of service. To make this plan effective it was necessary that it be accepted by at least 75 per cent. of the employees. The employees enthusiastically endorsed the new group insurance plan, 99.7 per cent. of the eligible employees subscribing to a total of over $20,000,000 of life insurance and over $23,000 of daily disability insurance. This group insurance supersedes the benefits formerly extended by the Philadelphia Electric Company Beneficial Association."

undergone minor improvements since then and will again be used in the track and field championships of the M. A. A. A. this spring.

When interviewed recently, Speakman conducted me to the basement of the Physics Laboratory where the apparatus is set up. A senior research student in physics, Speakman has the room to himself for experimentation.

The apparatus consists of a microphone which picks up the sound of the starter's gun at the same time it reaches the runners' ears. It is transmitted electrically to a cabinet containing a clock and other parts of the mechanism. The clock is started by the sound impulse and runs until the first runner breaks the finish line. The apparatus at the finish consists of an electric ray light at one side of the track and a photo electric cell shielded from the sunlight by a long cylindrical tube at the other side. When the first runner crosses the finish, his body intercepts the light ray, causing a reaction in the photo electric cell which immediately stops the clock, giving the exact time of the runner to one one-hundredth of a second.

In describing the action of the device, Speakman pointed out a fact which has not been noted before, that the apparatus clocks the reaction time of the runner as well as his time in the race. As a result of various tests, he has found that it takes from .17 to .12 of a second after the starter's gun has been fired before the sound impulse travels through the runner's ear, to his brain and through his nervous system to his muscles.

In a race, such as a hundred-yard dash, the microphone and clock are placed at the starting line of the track with the light beam and photo electric cell at the finish. In a race where the start and finish are at the same point, all the apparatus is set up there. By throwing a switch in the apparatus, it can be so adjusted that shutting off of the light beam does not stop the clock, thus allowing for races of several laps. Then, when the runners are on the last lap, the switch is thrown back and the first man to finish shuts off the light beam, automatically stopping the clock.

The adaptations to which the apparatus can be put are amazing. Speakman showed how it could be used as a burglar alarm by the ringing of a bell upon the interception of the light beam. He pointed out that by using ultra violet rays, to which the photo-electric cell is sensitive, the light could be made almost invisible, thus causing the burglar's downfall without his awareness of the apparatus.

Its usefulness as a fire alarm was also pointed out since thick smoke would prove opaque to the light beam and the reaction in the cell could be made to ring a bell.

Speakman has demonstrated the Timer at the St. Louis and Philadelphia Radio Shows and at the National Collegiate Athletic Association in New York during the past winter. He has also exhibited it at Lower Merion High School and lectured upon its working to the physics class at Lower Merion.

At the district meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers held at Swarthmore College on March 16, he was awarded the prize for the best student lecture in a demonstration and explanation of the apparatus. He has also exhibited it before the trustees of the Franklin Institute. A technical description of the Timer, written by Speakman, will appear soon in the Review of Scientific Instruments Journal.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Speakman, of 234 Haverford Avenue, Narberth, Speakman is a graduate of Lower Merion High School. He holds the Autocar Company scholarship at Haverford, and is prominent on the campus, being treasurer of the senior class, and president of the Radio Club.

While he has applied for a patent on the Timer, he is more interested in radio and research work than in developing the apparatus commercially. Speakman hopes to attend Harvard next year to continue his research work in the graduate school there. R. M. C.

Conduct Campaign Against Tuberculosis

A campaign specifically addressed to tuberculosis among youths is being conducted during the month of April by the Montgomery County Tuberculosis Association.

Most people think tuberculosis has ceased to be one of the major health problems, but as a matter of fact this disease is still the leading cause of death between the ages of fifteen to twenty-five years.

The slogan for the campaign is "Tuberculosis—the Foe of Youth." An effort will be made during the month of April to make known the fact that boys and girls, leaders in athletics and scholarship, have been discovered in active high school work apparently in good health but occasionally with tuberculosis smoldering within them soon to break into flame. Modern scientific progress has brought with it the tuberculin test and the X-ray—aids to physicians to discover cases in time to check the disease—even before any symptoms are noticeable.

The teen ages and early twenties particularly constitute a period of very great stress and strain. It is a period of adjustment from relatively easy life to the earning of a livelihood, the building of a home and the rearing of a family. Perhaps dissipation is practiced more excessively at this age period than at any other in life's span. From our present knowledge it would appear that this adjustment period plays an important role in the development of the adult type of tuberculosis. Deaths among young women of this age are about one-third more than young men of similar age. These deaths are preventable. Strain and stress must be replaced by rest, nourishing food and careful regulation of all activities.

Springtime Is Repair Time

Whether or not you are contemplating having painting done this spring, it is always a good plan to examine your house carefully for repairs, which are often needed after the long winter, and which cost very little if taken care of immediately.

By ROBERT J. EDGAR

If March came in like a lion (or was it a lamb?) it surely went out like a duck. Even though March was wetter than normal there is still a deficiency of one and one half inches in rainfall since January 1. This, with a deficiency of six and one half inches carried over from last year, leaves us about eight inches short of rain. The summer of 1929 was drier than normal. This is indeed a dry country. Nature has a way of working out an average over a period of time so that we gardeners must live and hope—and dig deeply and water artificially if we want to protect our investments in plants.

Water and cultivation are only two of the requirements. Plants must eat. The water is a carrier for food. Plants eat their food in liquid form and the soil should be in such condition that the moisture can travel up and down. Air in the soil is another essential for the life of soil bacteria which make the food elements available for the plant. Heavy clay requires that humus, or organic matter, be added for a considerable depth in order that all of the natural processes may function properly.

Animal manures have long been considered garden fertilizers and for the kitchen garden they are still good. Our modern flower garden does not want manures because of the fact that they are breeders of fungous diseases which destroy our finely-bred plants. Manures are likely to contain weed seeds and of the total bulk only about 3 per cent. is plant food; the balance will make the best of humus after it has been thoroughly decomposed and mixed with soil for several years. The same results may be had by using liquid manure, without the danger of fungus trouble.

A plant food that contains organic matter to form humus and also the chemical elements that are deficient in our soil is the proper combination. While the elements of phosphoric acid and potash fix themselves in the soil for a long time the nitrogen element is somewhat fleeting and should be applied at intervals during the growing season or should be in such form as to be slowly available over a long period. Commercial humus, plus sand, plus a complete chemical fertilizer is the safest combination in the flower garden.

To spray evergreens for scale use spray oil, known as miscible oil, using one part of oil to thirty parts of water. The mixture should be agitated to insure thorough mixing. The time to apply is when the weather is mild, with no danger of freezing and before the new growth starts. Euonymus may also be treated at the same time with the same spray.

Evergreens, including boxwood, may be sheared into shape directly before new growth is made. Too early, as yet, to spray boxwood for leaf miners.

Remove part of the covering from perennial beds and borders but do not uncover hybrid tea roses until late April as the tender buds are likely to be frozen.

Time to have the lawn mower overhauled—it won't be long now!

The Rose

By W. O. HIRD

I. N. Simon and Son

For garden decoration and general utility there is no other plant as satisfactory as the rose. At the same time there is no other class of plants that is more abused and neglected. While the rose appreciates a rich, loamy soil, it will do well in any kind of soil to which humus has been added. In preparing the beds the ground should be dug a foot deep and a quantity of well-decayed manure or a balanced plant food thoroughly incorporated. Bone-meal should be applied as a top dressing, after the bed is finished.

As the rose, when once planted, will remain in its permanent place for an indefinite period, the ground should be thoroughly prepared. The bushes should be carefully planted, the hole being made large enough to allow the roots to spread and the soil being well pulverized. Set the plants firmly in the ground covering the point of graft two inches deep. After planting give a thorough watering.

Of the different types of roses the Hybrid Tea, or Everblooming, varieties are most popular, blooming from early June until frost. While the selection of varieties is up to individual choice, the following list of varieties has been selected for their free-flowering habits, vigorous growth and color. Briarcliff, one of the new varieties, is a fine sort, the color being a silvery, rose pink. Los Angeles, salmon pink shaded gold, is a vigorous grower, and Madam Testout, with satiny pink blooms, should be in every collection. The well-known Radiance produces large, brilliant pink blooms, while Madam Butterfly is light pink, shaded with gold.

In the red varieties there are Etoile de France, a large, dark crimson sort; Hoosier Beauty, a velvety crimson and strong, vigorous grower; Mme. Edouard Herriot, a combination of coral red, yellow and rose scarlet, and Red Radiance, cerise red in color.

Two yellow varieties are included in the selection: Mrs. Aaron Ward, a free-flowering variety of dwarf habits which produces double flowers, distinct Indian yellow shading to white, and the Souvenir de Claudius Pernet which produces long, handsome, pointed bulbs of sulphur yellow color. Of the white varieties one of the best is the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria. The large, pearly-white flowers are slightly tinged with yellow. All these varieties are strong growers and under ordinary conditions will give entire satisfaction.

A new body style, the 5-passenger coupe, has been added to the 1931 line of Chevrolet Sixes, according to C. H. Kirsch, of the Kirsch Chevrolet Company, Cynwyd, where it is now available. Chevrolet's March output of 79,603 cars and trucks was larger than in any month since May, 1930.

Interesting Program Presented at Club

Miss Helen Hubbard, Dean of Girls at Lower Merion High,
Was Speaker.

CHILDREN GIVE PLAYS

A very interesting program was presented on Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth by Mrs. E. S. Duebler, chairman of the American Home Department of the club.

Miss Helen Hubbard, dean of the girls of Lower Merion High School, was the speaker and gave an interesting talk on her work with the girls of the school. One point she mentioned was that at present there were no disciplinary cases in this school and that on a whole the girls were happy, healthy and normal. Miss Hubbard, as advisor, tries to answer all questions and to help solve problems of the pupils.

The soloist of the afternoon was Miss Margaret Hartshaw, who has an extremely pleasing alto voice of great volume and beauty. Her numbers were "On the Shore," by Neidlinger, and "Jean," by H. T. Burleigh, followed with an encore, "O, Dry Those Tears," by Del Riego. Mrs. J. Fred Kuebler was the accompanist.

Mrs. Kuebler and Miss Hartshaw sang "The Rosary," by Nevin, followed by an encore, "Last Night," by Kjerulf.

Miss Hughes, director of dramatics of the Smith Memorial Playgrounds, spoke of the work of the children in this field and which is among the principal activities. The children with little or no scenery and a minimum of costume produce delightful little plays.

The first play to be presented was "Three Wishes," by a group of children from the Northern Liberties Play-ground, and was very well done.

This was followed by "A Moon for a Prince," by a group of children from Stanfield House Playgrounds, which did equally well.

Mrs. George Suplee and Mrs. J. W. Darville were at the tea table.

Previous to the program the regular business of the club was transacted and reports from the various chairmen heard. Among the most interesting was the report of Mrs. Harriet Miessett, chairman of Braille, who has just completed fifteen volumes of Braille for distribution among the blind.

In this group are "Perfect Vision,"

two volumes; "Little Dog Toby," two volumes; "The Boy Who Lived in Pudding Lane," two volumes; "Silas Bradford's Boy," one volume; "Constitution of Europe," one volume; "Call of the Wild," three volumes, and "The New England Country" and several others.

Club's Directors to Meet Tuesday at 10

On Tuesday there will be a meeting of the board of directors of the Woman's Community Club at Elm Hall at 10 A. M. All chairmen of committees who have any business to bring before the board of directors should do so between 11 and 12 A. M.

A luncheon and card party will be held in Elm Hall on Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the building fund of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth. Mrs. E. S. Duebler, chairman of the American Home Department, and her committee of the following members are in charge: Mrs. J. W. Darville, Mrs. Joseph Hongler, Mrs. William Loughlin, Mrs. Nelson Rosley, Mrs. Charles Bauer, Mrs. Ralph MacGuffin, Mrs. J. E. Burrell, Mrs. Arthur W. Burns, Mrs. Charles B. Carson, Mrs. John W. Joyce and Mrs. Edward Larney.

Mrs. Robert J. Nash, Mrs. Charles Bauer and Mrs. John W. Joyce are in charge of the tables, and reservations may be made with any of the last three.

Miss Margaret Ballingall Wed on Monday

The marriage of Miss Margaret Arneil Ballingall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ballingall, of Haverford Avenue, Narberth, and Mr. David Bloom, of Philadelphia, took place on Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the Valley Forge Chapel. The Rev. W. Herbert Burke performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a frock of beige crepe and a brown straw hat. Her bouquet was of talisman roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Jessie Ballingall, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and only attendant. Her gown was of peach crepe and her hat of tan straw. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and delphinium.

Mr. Arthur Ross Leany, of Toronto, Canada, acted as best man. A reception and breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, Mr. Bloom and his bride will reside at the Weymouth Apartments, Overbrook. They will be at home after May 15.

Chalfant D. A. R. Speaker

The regular meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter of N. S. D. A. R. will be held at the home of Mrs. E. C. Town, 200 Narberth Avenue, on Monday afternoon. The speaker will be the Rev. H. M. Chalfant, D. D. The subject will be Dr. Benjamin Rush. Preceding the meeting there will be a luncheon at 1 o'clock.

Men's Club of M. E. Church to Hear Rev. Arthur James

The Rev. Arthur James, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Methodist Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, will address the men of the community on Thursday evening, April 23, at 8 o'clock at the Men's Club of the Narberth M. E. Church.

The large audience that greeted Dr. James on his former address to the club will want to be present and bring their friends for this occasion.

Dr. James' many contacts here and abroad and his warm, vigorous personality commend him especially to an audience of men.

MABEL D. CROSSON

Solemn requiem mass was held at St. Margaret's Church, Narberth, on Monday at 10 o'clock for Mabel D. Crosson, daughter of Captain William J. Crosson, of 509 Haverford Avenue, Narberth. Interment was private.

Miss Crosson, who was 24, died last Thursday night as the result of a fall from the tenth floor of a New York hotel where she was staying at the time.

After graduating from Catholic High School in 1923, Miss Crosson began work as secretary to Francis H. Bohlen, professor at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, by whom she was employed up to the time of her death.

She is survived by her father, who is a captain in the Marine Corps; a married sister, Mrs. Martha Usher, of Bermuda, and a sister, Josephine, a nun of the Holy Child, Philadelphia.

A Tribute

No heart on her sleeve, wore this Mabel Crosson, a talented young woman of serious mien, capable to an unusual degree in her secretarial duties, as attested by Dr. Francis A. Bohlen, U. of P. professor and recent U. S. Senatorial candidate, her first and last employer, who tells of the extraordinary facility with which she dispatched her voluminous work and of the lofty standards which governed her every procedure.

Well known it is that humanity's finest natures are bereft of all that which is fulsome or effusive, requiring the proper time and occasion to reveal the generous emotions which constantly bestir their souls, not wasting them on casual or mawkish things, nor yet measuring their charity and love by callous rule. So it was in great degree with Mabel, a splendid, dependable person, genuine to the last inch, impatient of the gesture that was only sham, disposed to reserve herself, with a sweet gentility, for the service and sacrifice which would really count.

It was this kind of dear daughter which has been torn away from the heart and hearth of our esteemed friend and townsman, Captain William J. Crosson, U. S. A., and to whom the sincerest sympathy of the entire community goes out in fullest measure.

What terrible tidings were carried in that midnight message of the loved one he had lost and what misery must have tortured him as the dawn came to herald, once again, that day of Golgotha, long ago, when the cup of human anguish filled to its brim and overflowed as a broken and beaten God Man was hung to an ignominious death on the Cross?

Only thoughts and contrasts such as these can come to the rescue of your situation, Captain, the immutable justice which shall be your portion, the Christian's realization that pain and suffering, distress, disaster and death, in the irresistible nature of things, cannot be the darkest patches of earthly existence they appear to be, and that out from the wilderness must come the light, the joy and the peace that shall be the haven of eternal days.

You have been a sorely tried man, good friend, but the strength you need shall not be denied you, because you have merited well, and let copious drafts come to you from that other daughter whom you have given as a precious hostage to the God of Love, that Josephine of the great Society of the Holy Child Jesus, in whom you are well blessed, as, indeed, you are in Mabel, for she has truly gone to the Inn at the journey's end, to Our Father's House, where there are many mansions.

J. J. C.

MRS. LUCY I. CAREY

Mrs. Lucy I. Carey died on Tuesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard Strong, 29 Narbrook Park. The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Strong on Wednesday afternoon and interment was in Oberlin, O. Mrs. Carey was the widow of Rev. Isaac Eddy Carey. She is survived by four children, Mrs. Anna C. How, librarian of Bala-Cynwyd Library; Mrs. Howard Strong, John D. Carey, of Columbus, O., and Ben I. Carey, of Spokane, Wash.

Parent-Teacher Association
Planning Jolly Evening

The next meeting of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association is to be held on Monday, April 20th, in the school auditorium. At that time the program is to take on a somewhat different nature than the regular order. After a strenuous winter of hard study and serious instructions along the line of child training, the parents have decided to lay aside the pursuit of trying to make Johnnie and Nellie model children and spend an evening given largely to entertainment.

All the parents of the school children are invited to attend the April meeting, which is to be a birthday social. Every parent will receive a little bag in which they are to place a penny for each year of their age and bring it to school on Monday evening, April 20.

A most interesting program is planned and it is hoped that this will be the banner meeting of the year. Mrs. Henry A. Frye is to render two readings and there is to be a Mothers' Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Drennen. Also, there are to be three papers on P. T. A. work from the viewpoint of the teacher, the parent and the child. Miss Mary L. Hoover is to read the teacher's view; Mrs. Caryl Starr, first vice president of the P. T. A., is to present the parent's side of the question, and the children in the school are working on essays in which their opinions are expressed and one of these will be chosen to be read at the meeting.

The parents are all asked to be in good voice, as Miss Fricke has a number of new P. T. A. songs she would like to teach them.

These is one change in the original plans for this meeting. Instead of the

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE BOROUGH OF NARBERTH, MONTGOMERY COUNTY, PENNA.

April 8, 1931.

Notice is hereby given that the School District of the Borough of Narberth, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, will receive sealed bids up to seven o'clock P. M. on the 30th day of April, 1931, for the purchase of 55 coupon bonds of the denomination of One Thousand Dollars each, aggregating Fifty-five Thousand Dollars ($55,000.00), bearing interest at the rate of four (4%) per cent., payable semi-annually. Bids will be received for the entire issue. Said bonds and the interest thereon will be payable without deduction for any taxes except succession or inheritance taxes, which may be levied or assessed thereon or on the debt secured thereby under any present or future law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or of the United States of America. The bonds will be sold to the highest responsible bidder, provided such bid is not less than par and accrued interest. The bonds will be dated the first day of April, 1931, and will be registrable as to principal only. They will mature in series as follows:

Nos. 1 to 9, inclusive, to the amount of $9000, payable April 1st, 1936.
Nos. 10 to 18, inclusive, to the amount of $9000, payable April 1st, 1941.
Nos. 19 to 27, inclusive, to the amount of $9000, payable April 1st, 1946.

Mrs. Frank C. Stiefel, of Woodside Avenue, is entertaining at bridge tomorrow evening. Among the guests are Mr. and Mrs. John La Mond, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kirkpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Milner.

Miss Helen Voss, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Miss Betty Voss, of Lyndonville, N. Y., are spending the Easter vacation with Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, of Hampden Avenue.

Miss Ann Reihl, of Olney, was the guest of Miss Elma Reese, of Hampden Avenue, for several days last week. Mr. and Mrs. G. Howard Reese gave a family dinner party on March 26 in honor of their daughter, Miss Elma Reese's 21st birthday. Among the guests were Miss Ann Reihl and Mrs. R. R. Osmonf, of Concordville, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stallard, of Hampden Avenue, will have as their guests this week-end Mrs. C. E. Ensley and her son, Jack Ensley, of Albany, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Stallard entertained at cards on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scott, of Woodside Avenue, spent the Easter week-end in Ocean City.

Miss Ruth Hall, of Collegeville, Pa., visited her cousin, Miss Rosalind Mellor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barry S. Mellor, of Chestnut Avenue, over the Easter week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Prior, of Forest Avenue, returned on Monday from a several days' visit with their daughter, Mrs. A. B. Leary, of Worcester, Mass. Mrs. J. W. Prior, mother of Mr. Prior, returned with them and is spending some time at the home of her son and daughter-in-law.

Mrs. Frank W. Cortwright, of Wynnedale Avenue, and Mrs. Benjamin Steele, of Merion, have recently returned from a several weeks' stay at Miami Beach.

Mrs. Thomas Manning, of Hampden Avenue, has recently returned from Milford, Del., where she visited her father, Judge E. V. Hendrixson.

Mrs. Henry C. Cheyney, of Merion and Essex Avenues, spent last week-end at the Chalfonte-Haddon Hall in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Harvey C. Keim and Miss Lucia Keim, of Dudley Avenue, attended a concert given by the Women's Glee Club of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music in the auditorium of the Moorestown High School, Moorestown, N. J., on Wednesday, April 1. Thirty-one young women under the leadership of Professor Jack Wirkler delighted music lovers in a very pleasing way. The affair was sponsored by Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Curtis, members of the alumni.

Miss Lucia Keim had as her guests during the Easter vacation Miss Clara Corbin, a classmate at Oberlin College and a graduate of Chicago University; Miss Miriam E. Keim, of Susquehanna University, and Miss Edith Keim, of Pottstown, Pa.

Mrs. Herbert B. Price, of Anthwyn Road, returned on Monday evening from a several days' stay in Baltimore, Md. Mrs. Price was the guest of honor at a luncheon and bridge given by Mrs. M. Ergood, of Overbrook, on Wednesday.

Bill Anderson to Coach Baseball Team At Lower Merion

Lower Merion Bows to Scott in Finals

Second-Half Proves Fatal to Maroon After Holding 1st Half Lead.

CONDITION A FACTOR

By ROBERT McNALLY
Pitt Stadium, Pittsburgh, Pa.
April 4, 1931

Scott High, of North Braddock, came down from the mountain tops like an avalanche tonight to cover Lower Merion under a slide of field goals, and walk off the floor at the end of thirty-two minutes of high-speed basketball victors by the one-sided score, 28 to 15.

Scott High was a championship team tonight, and, by no stretching of the imagination, can we believe that they ever had as good a night with their shooting as they did against Anderson's clan. Every time they took a difficult shot at the hoop the old ball sank through the cords without so much as caressing the rim. They outran Lower Merion until the big Maroon team was dragging its feet. The boys from Ardmore were better than the speed hounds from North Braddock until they tired, but once they slowed up the local mountaineers speeded up their attack and ran away from the visitors.

The only explanation we can offer as to the cause of the buckling of Bill Anderson's athletes is the fact that the Scott boys were in better physical trim than the boys who had to travel over 1200 miles in the past three weeks to win five championship games. Also, the way the Scott team went about their chores proved their familiarity with the gym in which the game was staged. Lower Merion was a bit slow in taking advantage of their opportunities, and the opponents smothered them. Scott plays an aggressive, holding game, one that is different from the basketball in the Philadelphia section, and one that is likely to upset a clean-playing ensemble. If Lower Merion would scout the other teams as they scout Lower Merion, the result would have been different.

It is not necessary to alibi for the Eastern representatives, for they would not wish it, and they played the best they could under the circumstances. Scott was an unbeatable team tonight, and the way they shot the baskets showed uncanny skill, or an overdose

'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

A Soliloquy

I suppose all of you who saw the game or who played in it, have gone over the situation, replayed it from every angle from whistle to whistle, and have picked out the weaknesses and the might-have-beens.

Me, too.

I contend Lower Merion would have won in the Palestra or in any neutral gymnasium with a good home crowd to help along.

Maybe I'm wrong. Anyway Bill Anderson's team gets full credit from yours truly for a wonderful season and to me they're a good, game outfit. They are better than any team in the State outside of Scott.

And, after all, it's a tough assignment for boys who have a little easier time all of the time to go up against a bunch of mountain climbers and steel stokers and be expected to keep up with them through 32 minutes of grueling speed. Those boys looked like spark plugs in a sixteen-cylinder Cadillac. They would feel perfectly at home chasing mountain goats in the Andes.

Believe me you can't go to the seashore during the summer, take in a dance at the War Tribute House on a Saturday night, ride home in a plush seat, and expect to be as hard as the guy who gets up at 6 A. M., milks a herd of cows before breakfast, stokes a steel furnace on Saturday, and climbs hills to get to school and another to get home again.

Believe me, those guys out there were so fast when they found themselves playing on a level floor that it was impossible to keep up with them.

The fates are kind and just in this life. Take the case of Mel Fryburger, flyweight member of the of luck. Lower Merion with a record of 47 victories out of 50 games in the past two years is tribute enough for the team and for their redoubtable coach, Bill Anderson.

Good Diamond Material Available At Lower Merion As Anderson Takes Up Coaching

William H. Anderson, popular basketball coach at Lower Merion for the past four years, takes over the baseball team this season for the first time. The baseball situation has been capably handled by Warren Cocklin, of Athens Avenue, for the past five years, but due to the illness of his wife he will be unable to give so much time after school hours this season. This brings into the picture another opportunity for "Andy," who is a capable baseball player, and a successful coach of the national sport. Anderson played varsity baseball at college and was a member of the Penn. A. C. Club for two or three years, playing at first base. He was a timely and consistent hitter and a nice fielder.

squad. Mel has been going out for basketball since his eighth grade year, and by his energy and studiousness has made the varsity squad in both schools. He has been terribly handicapped by lack of height (he is only 5 feet 4 inches tall), but he has made up for this by his clever handling of the ball and his speed and aggressiveness. Fate was only just to Mel Fryburger last Saturday night when he, of all the stars on the team, should be the one to score the only point the squad was allowed the last half.

Mel has always been a champion, and it was just and right that he, through his own hard work and stick-to-it-iveness, should be a member of a team that reached the State finals and that he should contribute to the strength of the team in that game. If that boy could be a six-footer and put the same spirit in his work as he does now, he would be the best in the country. I'm sure Coach Bill Anderson would hear me out in this.

Well, it's curtains for the 1931 basketball season. The boys have all done well, better than we expected, and though they failed to storm the last fort at the top of the championship hill, they went down fighting and Lower Merion is proud of them all.

May those boys, like the Phoenix, rise from the ashes of their failure to renewed strength and greater accomplishments.

Cocklin has developed some fine material at the school the past season, and, with addition of a couple of newcomers, the outlook is better than at any time since Captain Jimmy Faulk and his mates showed the fans some good high school baseball. Jimmy, by the way, is now starring as first-string second baseman for the University of Alabama, the land where good cotton and baseball players grow.

The baseball situation at the Maroon and White bailiwick is decidedly on the up and up. I was out to watch the material in action last week and believe me they can handle the ball nicely. Al Burns behind the bat, Vic Blessing at first, either Boutillier, Wynn or Williams at second, McCoy at third and Brennan at short, look particularly capable. Williams or McCoy can fill in at any infield position and handle the situation with precision. Blessing is the nicest fielding prospect since Tubby Forte paraded his ability around the initial hassock some five years ago. Either Boutillier or Emmett Wynn are good at the keystone corner. Brennan is a newcomer from West Catholic, and his fielding around shortstop is as smooth as a midsummer's dream. McCoy is the best bet for third base at present and he will bring the team a lot of hitting power.

Campbell, Odiorne and Thomas are at present the best of the pitching prospects. Campbell is an addition from Overbrook High School and looks the goods. Lefty Thomas has the ability if he can settle down and forget that he is a lefthander and therefore permitted the usual lefthander's caprices. Odiorne is a righthander, easy in his delivery, and quite capable in a pinch. He is a good hitter, as are the other two boys. Victor Newborg is a capable catcher and may push Burns from that position.

Captain Seaver Rose, Lachman Reinhart, Dick Kreible and Howard Smith are likely prospects for the outfield. Some of the other infielders, probably Ketterer or Williams or Wynn, might be put in the outfield to strengthen the hitting. Any of the three pitchers can also play the outfield.

All in all, Coach Cocklin has left a nice squad of baseball athletes for Anderson, and the chances are the Suburban League will show many Lower Merion triumphs this season.
